Composites depict the brotherhood as an assembled group of individual black & white photographic portraits. The originals measure in excess of 24 x 36 inches and are normally hung in the public rooms of the 13 South Avenue Deke House. Small copy prints measure 11 x 14 inches. The composites included a representation of the Fraternity coat of arms in the center field. The chapter's coat of arms was substituted in some years beginning in 1988.

Recent composites have included a picture of Ralph C. Mannuni, a fictitious member (accession number 1103) of the Delta Chi chapter attributed to Brother George Edwin Fox '61. Mannuni's original home was allegedly in East Jesus TX. Mannuni's composite picture is from a daguerreotype of John Caldwell Calhoun (American statesman, 1782- 1850) taken by Matthew Brady. The original is in the collection of the National Archives and Records Administration, Washington DC. See Coit, Margaret L., John C. Calhoun; American Portrait, Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston 1950.

Artifacts

ΔKE3-134. Artifact. ΔKE Watch Fob (Egbert Moxham, Delta Chi '04).

Description: A gentleman's watch fob measuring 5.75 inches in length, entire. Item consists of brown leather strap and gold plated brass attachments: a swivel mounted eye at one end, and a representation of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity coat of arms at the other. The strap measures ½ inches in width and features an ornamental buckle and two tuck bands. The ΔKE escutcheon, measuring approximately 0.9 inches in breadth and 0.8 inches in height, is comprised of three distinct members: (1) a base shield with enameled tinctures, (2) a gold inescutcheon, and (3) above the shield a winged globe lettered ΔKE that is pierced by two swords crossed saltierwise, hilts uppermost. The chain depicted in base has nine links including the pendant Greek letter Phi. The obverse carries an engraved legend, "Egbert Moxham," in fancy script. This ornament conforms to the official design of the Fraternity coat of arms with the exception that the motto scroll is absent. Gift of Brother Arthur James Moxham, Delta Chi '37.

Text:

IN THE official history of Cornell University, published in 1905, it is happily recorded that fraternity life on the Hill took added impetus in the second year of the existence of fraternities at the institution when "large, strong, and well-known Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity established a chapter."

Of all the Eastern Greek letter fraternities, DKE longest continued the policy all once followed . . . that of selecting institutions for new chapters before selecting the men to whom a charter should be entrusted; and the Delta Chi chapter at Cornell was thus instigated.

The 23rd convention of DKE in October 1869 had placed its approval on Cornell, established but two years earlier with great promise, and during the Christmas holidays of that year sent three members: Sweet and Clark of the Yale chapter, and Sloane of the Rochester chapter, to Ithaca to select the type of men who should compose the new group. After a week of "sounding" and making acquaintances, they invited a group of a dozen chosen students to meet with them at the old Clinton House where the plan of the new chapter was unfolded, and the new men enthusiastically accepted the mission set forth by the DKE ambassadors.

Their charter was certified on January 10, 1870 and on February 11th, the first Delta Chi pin was worn on the campus. That evening was staged the new chapter's inaugural dinner. Since every man had been hand-picked for his abilities and leadership, that year's Cornellian showed her original membership, of but thirteen men in ill four classes, to include the Senior Essayist, the Sophomore class secretary, orator and prophet; the adjutant of the Cadet Battalion; the secretary of Adelphi, one of the three debate societies; and the vice-president of Irving, another debate society, as well as its Essayist; one of the founders of the new sophomore society; the baseball president and two members of the first crew which Cornell had ever seen.

In that original chapter to mention a few were: James Julius Chambers, class orator who became internationally-famed as a journalist, traveler and author. He was the first editor of the Paris edition of the New York Herald, the managing editor of the New York World; the author of such well-known former day novels as "A Mad World," "On a Margin" and others; Millard Thorn Conklin, a manufacturer with the Detroit Car Wheel company; Frank D. Nash, who became one of the leading attorneys of the Northwestern and president of the Board of Trustees at the University of Washington, and last, but entitled to first place in any Delta Chi list, John DeWitt Warner, who was not only one of the leading undergraduates in his day and one of Cornell's staunches! alumni throughout life, but who also became one of New York's leading lawyers and civic leaders, a national president of Delta Kappa Epsilon, and who was prominent in every Delta Chi undertaking.

FROM the first, the chapter prospered and developed. The Annuals show that DKE men were dominating in campus affairs and taking a leading role in the development of Cornell and its student life. In 1871, Cornell opened its first gym with Dekes as president, secretary and treasurer of the Athletic Association. The Cornell Navy was founded with a Deke as its first Commodore. It was a DKE who wrote the Cornell Yell, and another composed the first Cornell song "1875."

The chapter started with a Lodge room over the old Morrison's Dry Good store in the heart of downtown Ithaca, but within four years realized its ambition to have both living and lodge quarters under one roof when it rented one of Cornell's finest fraternity houses of that time, a pretentious red brick mansion half way up the Hill at Osmon Place. When its present house, popularly known in former days as the Gray Stone Castle, was completed in 1895, it was known as one of the finest chapter houses in the country. The University provided the building site.

Four years after the house was built, Teddy Roosevelt, president of United States and a loyal Deke initiated at Harvard, made a special visit to the chapter house and commemorated the occasion by planting two trees, on either side of the front door, which now tower on the West Avenue side of the house.

Some years later in 1907, an extensive addition was made to the house and a broad veranda was built. A tennis court was created. Through the years, the house has been enhanced and kept up-to-date. Gifts to the house have been too numerous to mention, but some note should be recorded of some of its various memorials. In 1906 Alumni who had never lived in the new house, raised funds to commission the making and installation of two handsome, stained glass windows, illuminated each night, as a memorial to deceased classmates. Many members of the chapter had distinguished themselves through their enlistment for the Spanish American War, and when one of them, Clifton Beckwith Brown, was the first American killed in that war, his parents give the ornate fireplaces and the other fittings of the house library and dining room. In memory of Clayton C. Ingersoll, who lost his life as an aviator in the World War, a third elaborate fireplace was placed in the reception hall. The alumni guest room is a memorial to Frit/ L. Mergenthaler.

ALL of the chapter's property is owned by the Delta Chi Alumni Association of which each initiate of the chapter automatically becomes a member upon his graduation. Loyal alumni officers of this association make regular and frequent visits to the chapter house, insuring that the property is kept up without special obligations to its undergraduate members. Treasurer of the Alumni Association is Douglas Gillette, a prominent Ithaca business man who makes a practice of visiting the house at least once a week. Members sign no building pledges, or notes, and the property is maintained alone through that part of each man's house bill known as room rent. The house bills are average with all other fraternities, and include all food and room costs and dues. Delta Kappa Epsilon members on Cornell's faculty are frequent visitors at the chapter house. At the present time, these include: E. F. Bradford, registrar and director of admissions; Wilder D. Bancroft, professor of chemistry; Frank P. Bussel, professor of plant breeding; James Davis, instructor in forestry; Alexander M. Drummond, professor of public speaking; George C. Embody, professor of agriculture; Carl Stephenson, professor of history; and Captain Robb S. Mackie, director of the R.O.T.C. band who leaves next year to become director of the U.S. Army band at Washington, D.C.

Frequent visitors to the chapter, too, are its alumni members. To them, the present active members owe a special regard for the brilliant heritage which they have created. Some widely known alumni of the chapter are: Mario Garcia Menocal, former president of the Republic of Cuba, who lavishly entertained a DKE national convention which was staged in Havana at his invitation; Winchester Fitch, retired New York lawyer who was prominent in civic affairs and long served as a member of the executive committee of the Y.M.C.A.; James W. McCulloh, Chicago grain broker; Alan G. Darling, executive with the General Electric company; Seth W. Shoemaker, executive of the International Text Book company; R. J. Thorne, executive of the Montgomery Ward and Company; T. J. Hennings, St. Louis, Member of Congress, and E. Vail Stebbins, New York broker who is a member of the executive committee for the International Cup races.

Chuck Barrett, mourned as a World War hero who lost his life and remembered as Cornell's greatest football star, is cited on the plaques at Schoellkopf Field as the first man to make a touchdown in that field.

An honorary, yet initiated member of the chapter, was Rutherford Birchard Hayes, president of the United States, who was elected to his membership due to his close concern for the chapter and relations with it especially while two of his sons were members of it.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON is nationally-known as a leading college fraternity. Inspiration for its founding came largely from George Foot Chester, a student at Yale, who on June 22, 1844 gathered together fourteen of his friends among the student leaders at that institution to form a new type of student society. At that time, two junior societies existed at Yale but the selection for membership in them was almost automatic. If a man won a certain type of campus honors, it was a foregone conclusion that he would be chosen by one of the societies. As a consequence, these societies lacked close-knit friendships and the enthusiasm and fellowship which characterizes today's real fraternity and that which Chester was visualizing. As a result of the meeting called by Chester, Delta Kappa Epsilon was founded to recognize the value of genuine scholarship and campus attainments, but to this was coupled a recognition of the qualities of good fellowship in order that there might be that proper balance which forms the well-rounded, cultured and companionable gentleman.

The new society attracted enthusiastic petitions for branch chapters at many nearby institutions and the Delta Kappa Epsilon idea and organization developed rapidly in its early days, until it became represented in nearly every leading school in the country.

That its ideals were sound is indicated in part by the fact that Delta Kappa Epsilon can probably claim more distinguished members through the years than can perhaps any other national Greek letter society, and all of them have been intensely loyal members. When Admiral Robert E. Peary discovered the North Pole, he planted there not only the U. S. Flag but the flag of his fraternity.

A roster of Dekes, living and dead, contains many of the nation's best known names in all lines of endeavor. To mention only a few of the present widely-known members, one would include: More than a dozen members of the present Congress including Senators Royal S. Copeland and James J. Wadsworth; twenty college presidents including James R. Angell of Yale, Ernest M. Hopkins of Dartmouth, Stanley King of Amherst and Clarence A. Barbour of Brown; many well known writers such as Donald Ogden Stewart, Corey Ford and George S. Chappell; a publisher such as William Randolph Hearst; an athlete such as Jack Torrence whose world's record in the shot put still stands; business leaders such as Harold H. Swift, the packer; and distinguished citizen? such as Charles Francis Adams, former U.S. Secretary of the Navy; W. D. Mitchell, former U.S. attorney general; the late Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the House and the late Henry Cabot Lodge.

The open motto of the Fraternity is "From the heart forever friends," and this has developed into the real basis of Delta Kappa Epsilon. It has multiplied and intensified the delight of the individual in the things of the spirit and the mind, by teaching him to pursue them with his fellows.

HISTORY AND TRADITION

Our fraternity had its beginning at Yale in 1844 when George Foot Chester and fourteen other student leaders gathered together to form a new type of student society as a protest against the injustice of the existing society system of that university. At that time, two Junior societies existed at Yale, but the selection for membership in them was automatic if a man won certain campus honors.

As a result of the meeting, Delta Kappa Epsilon was founded to recognize the value of genuine scholarship, campus attainments, and good fellowship in the proper balance which forms the well-rounded and companionable gentleman.

In the past 116 years, DKE has compiled a roster of fifty-two chapters in thirty-one States and Provinces in the United States and Canada.

Fifteen hundred and forty-two Dekes participated in the War between the States. Altogether, thirty-nine were generals and one hundred and twenty reached the rank of full colonel.

A Yale Deke was the first northern officer to lose his life in action, and a Princeton Deke was the last Southern Commander to surrender. Coincidentally, the first American officer to lose his life in the Spanish American War was a Rutgers Deke. Theodore Roosevelt, a Harvard Deke, and President of the United States, led the famous charge up San Juan Hill. For the second time in a quarter of a century the Deke crest reposed above the White House fireplace, as Rutherford B. Hayes, also a Deke, was the first member of a college fraternity to assume the honor of presidency.

Delta Kappa Epsilon can probably claim more distinguished members throughout the years than can perhaps any other national Greek letter society. Such men as: Nathaniel Hawthorne, William Randolph Hearst, Dr Harvey Gushing, Dean Acheson, Stuart Symington, Admiral Peary, and Chuck Barret, remembered as Cornell's greatest football star have, comprised the Deke roster. MATT:

Here is the Negative To the Senior Dinner Picture hanging in the library. See, I told you that I would send it. It's from May of 1993. I had to have the photo place do some magic work in developing to get a clear blowup w/out any fuzziness.

The thing is, since I've sent you this negative that I've had in my possession for 8 yrs - you need to guarantee to me that this gets into the archives officially and catalogued - ala Fogle style. I think this is a pretty significant photo like those ones from the 1930's. It captures every single brother in the house in 1993 - all in one single drunken place.

So you gotta promise me that this thing won't get lost ~~that~~ or stolen or destroyed like everything else in the house. OK?

Also, all the way have all the rules from Itasca, I thought about how I can improve what I said on the video. Let me know if I can redo it.

Beards,

-Neumann

Dear Brother Fogle:

I have a contribution to the Chronology of Delta Chi which will help remedy what you call the "otherwise dry pages of an institutional history." It is a letter from S. E. "Booty" Hunkin '16, sent to me when I was Alumni Relations Chairman in 1979.¹ Although I cannot verify the accuracy of its tales, the letter is nonetheless a valuable memoir because it represents one generation's perception of its noble fraternity.

You might also consider publishing the Big Brother Genealogy [sic] tree for 1972-1980. Lastly, I have enclosed a response from the Cornell Athletic Hall of Fame to my 1979 nomination of U.S. Olympian W. H. Fritz '14.² I sent the latter because you are the type who has the zeal to initiate a second lobbying effort for Fritz's election to the Hall, perhaps after you complete your other Herculean [sic] projects for Deke. Thanks for your work to date.

Booty's letter (punctuation and all):

To the Delta Chi Dekes of 1979. Attention Dan Dube:

Adolph Stuber "1912" and I, "1916" live here in Naples Florida.³ Now that [Coach] Bob Blackman is bringing Cornell back to recognition, we thought we should tell you about Cornell Football and the Deke House men who made it the recognized champion of 1915. Barrett's name is inscribed in the Football Hall of Fame at Canton Ohio.⁴ Cool who was placed in Walter Camp's All American team that year weighed only 160 lbs.⁵ He placed second to the All-American center from Pittsburg weighing 225 lbs. He played with no head gear and with his bare head, he kept the opposing... guards away from him and his head was bloody after every game. No referee would listen to the complaints of those who got butted with his bare head, as without a head gear, it didn't seem possible. When we beat Harvard 10-0, it was the first time, including his years at Exeter that Mohon[?] ever played in a losing game. The Deke house also had Hill and Fritz on the varsity teams of 1914-15.⁶ We had two managers, Foster of Baseball and I of football.⁷ Gilman stroked the Cascadilla crew before he entered Cornell.⁸ He was Commodore of the champion 1914 crew while a sophomore. He would have been one of the greatest oarsman of the time, according to Coach Courtney had he stayed. He disappeared in his junior year and was never heard of again. "Curly" Newman of the track team was killed in World War I. Benton of the tennis team, still living, was one of the top players in the U.S., along with Hunter who was doubles partner with Tilden, and world champions for several years.⁹ The Cornell bear was my contribution to the traditional leader of the band to this day. He was a tame one and traveled in the car with the team. His successor the next year was a wild one and not safe to handle and that ended the live bears in the future. The Dekes of 1914-16 were the athletes of their day. I will say however that their scholastic rating among the fraternities was near the bottom. So put these two [year] books in your library so the youngsters yet to come, will know what was what, way back when.

Fraternally yours, (signed).

SENSE!

J. P. Maher says:

- In its last 3 handbills, C. U. S. has admitted that its structure is still undetermined.
In simple English, this means that C.U.S. has no idea what its STUDENT UNION actually is.
IF THEY DON'T KNOW, HOW DO YOU? AND IF YOU DON'T KNOW, WHY VOTE FOR IT?
- Advocates of C.U.S. want a change because the Student Government HAD NO POWER. What guarantee do they give us that their Student Union would have that power? Are they better looking?
- Why is Birchall afraid of me? If he has the support he claims he should have no difficulty effecting his idea after Student Government is abolished. Vote for me and give Student Union a fair chance to prove itself.

It may interest Mr. Birchall to know that we have graduated from high school.

Elect James P. Maher

I, James P. Maher, appeal to the vast majority of students who are in college to live, love, study, and graduate. I appeal to the Cornellian who is not in every activist hootenanny, who declines to wail in protest everytime the Sun blows its bugle.

The Cornell Union appeals for student power and involvement. Remember their well advertised organizational meeting to demonstrate support for this cause? Of course not; you didn't go, only 75 showed up; the same 75 who outrage us at every sit-in, burn-up or random S.D.S. gross-out. A few days later, the same droll trolls met for a "University Wide" meeting on the drug investigation. A student government executive board member promised, "What you decide, we shall do!" If you want this campus run by 75 veteran picketeers, vote Birchall. If not, help me quash Birchall's haphazard hoax.

I say, begin Spring Weekend with the end of student government.

J. P. MAHER:
Abolitionist Candidate for President of Student Government

Platform

For four years I have followed the ineffective flailings and broken promises of our Student Government. Before each election, inspired, grand, and visionary pledges are solemnly intoned: Student Government, we are predictably told, is in need of a massive overhaul and the candidate, presumably on the basis of his high school experience, will effect that overhaul. Dubious, but lured by the possibility of CHANGE, we cast our votes. We do not vote, remember, for the Student Government as we have known it. We vote for something NEW.

The story continues. Inevitably, within two weeks, the Student Government has slipped from the winning candidate's platform into the usual swamp of ambiguity, committeeism, hypocrisy, international politics (hardly its proper domain), and misty-eyed-self-righteousness. But we have lost interest in Student Government for another year and turn our backs on this adolescent relic.

Tired and bored, I, James P. Maher offer you a REAL CHOICE. You have every reason to be skeptical and I no reason to blame you. But I plead with you to stumble out to the polls just once more for, if elected, you will never hear of elections again. If elected, I will abolish Student Government at Cornell.

Still skeptical? Consider this: all but two other Ivy League Schools have recognized Student Government for what it is (i.e. a freak show), and have abolished it. Yale elected a dog in 1957.

I pledge to consider my election a referendum to end a Student Government in which only a fraction of the student body participates, only 25% vote, and from which only vested interests benefit.

No one, on grounds of change or progress, has yet devised a JOB for Student Government at Cornell. Why, then, do we perpetuate this annoyance? We are neither aware of being governed nor do we feel that we should be.

We must let spontaneous groups represent student interests, as they arise, rather than perpetuate useless committees which preside over interests which have long vanished. Let us reevaluate. Let need dictate structure, not vice versa.

Vote for me and clear the air of unhappiness, frustration, accusation, resignation, boredom, and outright idiocy.

THE GOLDEN AGE OF COMEDY

In the past week, Student Government has spent hundreds of your dollars to tout their long - unawaited restructuring proposal. They've told you how new it is, how big it is and how good it is, but they haven't told you what it is, or how it works. Do you really believe that 50 Birchall supporters strutting or surging through the halls of Student Government will be any more efficient than the magnificent seven who currently rule the roost? (My trained Marmoset has more finesse, not to mention ability.) I, J. P. Maher, say no matter how thin you slice Student Government, it is still cold turkey.

VOTE NO don't give campus wide approval to the congenital incompetents of the Executive Board by making more jobs for the maladjusted.

VOTE NO The Golden Age of Activities Corridor sight gags and pastryballistics comedy is at its gotterdamerung. I asked a student if he had seen Student Government's last proposal for restructuring. The student replied "I hope so".

VOTE NO and watch as Birchall and his claptrap crew destroy themselves and Student Government in a Spring long flail of referendums, sit-ins, sit-ons, burn-ups, pawn-offs, etc., which should provide us all with one last hearty laugh as we bid High School and all its trappings, ADIEU.

WANTED!

INFORMATION LEADING TO THE DISCOVERY AND APPREHENSION OF
 THE NEFARIOUS BALLOT STUFFER

REWARD!

I, James P. Maher, in the interest of justice and personal honor, do hereby proclaim a REWARD of $50 (fifty) dollars for information instrumental to the discovery of the dastardly malefasant who deliberately and surreptitiously stoked well over 350 (three hundred fifty) bogus ballots into the maw of the polls less than one week ago. The intent of the clandestine rogue was not only to disrupt the course of campus democracy, but also to heinously implicate one or both of the candidates (hence the obvious cramming of a small number of ballots, while the remainder mysteriously escaped detection by the vigilant Elections Committee).

The forthright Student Body of Cornell University can little tolerate nor long ignore this malicious deed which has let loose the tongues of rumour, accusation and slander. The blackguard must be apprehended. Furthermore, once the truth of the matter has been established, the integrity of those persons and publications whose mindless J'accuse has rung in the ear of the body academic for these many days without substantiation, must be carefully weighed and re-evaluated. We must let evidence precede accusation, not vice versa.

Observe, listen, and investigate. Help apprehend the scruffy culprits who have perpetrated this tasteless affront to our collective dignity. Return sanity, honor and justice to our Campus.

$50-FIFTY-50$

All information must be validated by the Proctors Office before being eligible for the REWARD.

Image of Marx Brothers in barrels marked “KIPPERED HERRING” from the film Monkey Business (1931) followed by text:

Student Government, in its cosmic wisdom, has proposed to stoke the coffers of the Fall Mobilization with $1,000 (one thousand dollars). Although I, James P. Maher, believe that this vast quantity of YOUR wealth could be more profitably spent to provide food and shelter for our rag-tag remnants of high school Jacobinism, I have no intense objection to this perverse philanthropy if it is in tune with the majority of the Cornell Student Body. It seems, however, that our teenybop governmental tyros wish to trod barefoot over the will of the students.

In order to smother any potential explosion of student disgust, Mr. Birchall & Co. have sought to cloak parochial bias in Democracy by decreeing an inconvenient Referendum next Wednesday in which the healthy, indifferent majority of Cornell students will obviously not participate, thus leaving it to the minithrongs of our scruffy radical fringe to sprinkle the bottoms of the ballot boxes with an all-too-thin layer of affirmation for our activities-corridor activists' monetary clearance sale. This subtle fiasco is a blatant affront to the collective dignity of the student body: it is a violation of the principle of individual political prerogative.

I regret that in order to quash this ridiculous routine propounded by Birchall's Benefactors, Inc., you must wearily trudge up the hill and cast your veto on Wednesday; but unless you vote NO, you will have subsidized the world's most miserable transportation undertaking since the Executive Board took a chain-drive Mack truck back to campus this fall!

When defeat rings down about the ears of our duly elected leaders, as surely it must, I predict that they will be in a quandry as to the status of the misappropriated $1,000. I say, invest that money in the student body from whence it was forcefully appropriated under the euphemistic guise of "fees". Vote yourself YOUR share in the wealth that washes down the bureaucratic sewer each week. Vote for the MAHER PROPOSAL!

What is the MAHER PROPOSAL? Watch this space for further developments!
