all files placed in Box 6:
C18, C19, E3, E4.

Note on File Terminology

In the inventory that follows, the file name is in bold, and:

"Periodicals" includes magazines, newspapers, and one-issue pamphlets or brochures.
"Documents" includes all other material except newspaper clippings.

General Description

The collection brings together materials from leftist political groups, institutions, and events that one New Leftist encountered, joined, and wrote about from 1966 to 1972.

Notable components are:

1. Most of the public materials distributed--at crisis times on a daily basis-- by Cornell University-based antiwar and New Left organizations from 1966 to 1971 (the period when Lawrence Kramer, Cornell Class of 1970, was in Ithaca).

2. Documentation of the activities and internal evolution of organizations including:

- The Office and the Glad Day Press (1966-1971).
- Cornell and National Students for a Democratic Society and its offshoots (1967-1969).
- the Cornell Draft Resistance Movement (1967-1968).
- The National Caucus of Labor Committees, both its early, rationalist incarnations pre-1970 and its later unusual evolution.
- the Socialist Labor Committee and its decision to dissolve (1971-1972).

3. Printed materials including:

- "Public" documents: magazines, newsletters, pamphlets, brochures, leaflets.
- "Internal" documents: Position papers, proposals, drafts of documents.

4. Other materials including:

- Published and unpublished commentaries and articles, as well as political journals, meeting notes, correspondence and notes of Lawrence Kramer.
- Government files obtained through the requests under the Freedom of Information Act, resulting in partial releases of documents showing the surveillance activities of the FBI, and collections of other departments.
- News clips and editorial material documenting left groups and events.
- Lists of signers of public petitions, university disciplinary citations, buttons and other memorabilia.

Within the files inventoried, most documents are dated, and some are annotated by Lawrence Kramer and Peter Agree, Cornell Class of 1969. Some additional commentaries and explanations are found in the glossary and inventory listings that follow.

Virtually all the material is open for unrestricted inspection.

Glossary

Though the following notes are inevitably subjective, they at least provide a start:

- Cornell SDS: Local chapter of national SDS. Major growth occurred beginning in late 1967, especially with the ebb of the draft resistance movement, and after reorganization in the summer of 1968. By Spring 1969, it was one of the nation's largest chapters, with over 300 members. Leading up to the national split in June 1969, in contrast to many other chapters, members of different factions continued to work together. PL/WSA was little represented in the chapter; following the split, the main groups were the IRC and ILC.
- Glad Day Press: Also called The Office and the Glad Day Press: nonprofit nonexclusionary publishing arm of the Ithaca left, first at 107 Dryden Road, later at 308 Stewart Avenue. After 1967, Glad Day Press publications can usually be identified by the International Workers of the World Local 450 (IWW) union bug.
- ILC: Ithaca Labor Committee (Fall 1969-March 71). Most of its members began in the Cornell SDS Labor Committee, where they were central to developing the Cornell SDS Housing Program; later they formed the Ithaca Socialist Labor Committee.
- IS: Independent Socialists, a still-existing socialist organization.
- IRC: Independent Radical Coalition (Summer 1969-1970) inclusive faction of SDS after the national split. Largely responsible for Tiohero and Volunteers magazines. Some members later joined RYM factions.
- MDAP: Mobilization Direct Action Project (Summer 1967), organizing project in Flatbush (Brooklyn) and Manhattan, sponsored by Mobe. Mostly Cornell students; 12 arrested at Navy ship on Hiroshima Day 1967. Provided most of the participants for the August 24 demonstration and money distribution at the NY Stock Exchange, made famous by Abbie Hoffman.
- Mobe: The National Mobilization to End the War in Vietnam (1966-1967), umbrella coalition sponsoring April 15, 1967 Sheep Meadow, October 21, 1967 Pentagon demonstrations. Later evolution was the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice.
- NAM: New American Movement (1971?-1983), socialist group formed largely of SDS members, later merged into today's Democratic Socialists of America.
- NCLC: National Caucus of Labor Committees (1968-present), formerly the Labor Committee faction within SDS; the majority NCLC faction led by Lyndon LaRouche ("Marcusites" or "Positive Political Tendency") expelled the Fraser faction that became the SLC. After many sharp changes in political ideology, the NCLC is now a right-wing group.
- PL: Progressive Labor Party, then a Maoist group; still-existing organization.
- The Resistance: Umbrella for local draft resistance groups, including the Cornell "We Won't Go" group and the April 15, 1967 Sheep Meadow draft card burning. Sponsored massive draft card returns October 16, 1967, December 3, 1967, April 3, 1968. Many Cornell chapter members were also in SDS.
- RYM: Revolutionary Youth Movement (June 1969-1970?), faction of late SDS; continued after the split; later evolved into the Weather Underground.
- RYM II: Revolutionary Youth Movement II (1969-?), Maoist faction of late SDS; continued after the split; later evolved into the Revolutionary Communist Party and other groups.
- SDS: Students for a Democratic Society (1964?-1969), formerly the Student League for Industrial Democracy, split into RYM, RYM II, WSA, NCLC, SWP, IS, NAM. Had local and regional chapters, spinoffs like the adult Movement for a Democratic Society, Teachers for a Democratic Society.
- SFCFP: Students for a Constructive Foreign Policy (1966-67), campus education and dormitory organizing group. Many members later joined SDS.
- SLC: Socialist Labor Committee (March 1971- July 72), most members formerly in the NCLC; virtually all ILC members and former members who had moved to NY to work with the NCLC, plus others, were labelled by Marcus "Bavarians" or "Fraserites" (after Steve Fraser, a leader of the group) or "Bavarians," and expelled as a faction from the NCLC.
- SWP: Socialist Workers Party, continuing Trotskyist national organization.
- WSA: Worker-Student Alliance (1968-1970), faction of late SDS; continuing post-split group.
- YSA: Young Socialist Alliance, youth group of SWP.
