MRS. OLIVER HARRIMAN

MRS. ELLEN SHIPMAN
LANDSCAPE DESIGNER

Mrs. Ellen Biddle Shipman of Cornish, N. H., one of the leading landscape architects of the United States, who practiced her profession for more than forty years, becoming noted especially for her gardens, died Monday at her winter residence, Eagle House, Warwick, Bermuda. She was born eighty years ago in Philadelphia, a daughter of Gen. James Biddle and the former Ellen MacGowan. After attending Radcliffe Mrs. Shipman studied landscape architecture under Charles Adams Platt. Examples of her work are to be found in the New York Botanical Garden, the Lake Shore Boulevard at Grosse Pointe, Mich., and in the private estates of Samuel Salvage at Glen Head, L. I.; Mrs. Carl Tucker of Mount Kisco, N. Y., and Windsor White of Cleveland. The majority of her designs were in the American or English tradition, a lesser number in the French, Spanish or Italian styles. To an interviewer Mrs. Shipman said in 1938: "Until women took in landscaping, gardening in this country was at its lowest ebb. The renaissance of the art was due largely to the fact that women, instead of working over their boards, used plants, as if they were painting pictures, and as an artist would."

Mrs. Shipman's marriage to the late Louis Evan Shipman, playwright and editor, ended in divorce. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Ellen Shipman Angell and Mrs. Mary Shipman Barbur, and a son, Evan Biddle Shipman.

THOMAS CAPEK

Thomas Capek, lawyer, banker and author, who was formerly president of the Bank of Europe and its successor, the Bank of Europe Trust Company, died yesterday at his home, 35-53 Eighty-second Street, Jackson Heights, Queens, at the age of 88.

Born in Czechoslovakia, Mr. Capek came to this country at 19 and in 1888 received his LL. B. from the University of Michigan. He had practiced law in Omaha and was a member of the lower

MRS. J. N. BROWN, 80,
SUCCUMBS IN HOME

Newport Resident, Noted for Civic Leadership and Help to Needy, Was Political Figure

Special to The New York Times
NEWPORT, R. I., March 28—Mrs. Natalie Bayard Dresser Brown, mother of former Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Air, John Nicholas Brown, who herself was long active in civic and political life here, died at her home, Harbor Court, last night after a long illness, in her eighty-first year.

Her son, who with his family was touring in Europe, arrived here by plane on Sunday when notified of her serious condition. She had been an invalid in her home for a year. A funeral service will be held Thursday at 2 P. M. in Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church, which she joined in 1901 as a memorial to her husband, the late John Nicholas Brown Sr.

Besides her son, Mrs. Brown leaves three sisters, Mrs. George Grenville Merrill and the Vicomtesse d'Osmy of Newport, and Mrs. Peter Goelst Gerry of Providence, wife of the former United States Senator; also two grandsons and a granddaughter.

Exhibited Own Paintings

A daughter of the late Col. George W. and Susan LaRoc Dresser of Newport, the former Natalie Bayard Dresser, after attending private schools, was married here in Trinity Church, at the age of 28. Her husband, a member of the Rhode Island family that founded Brown University, was a son of John Carter Brown, who made a large fortune as a manufacturer and East India merchant.

A former president of the Civic League of Newport, Mrs. Brown was president of the Art Association, in whose gallery she exhibited her own paintings in 1947. Becoming interested in politics in 1930, she served as president of the Newport Women's Democratic Club until 1937, when she resigned in protest against President Roosevelt's so-called attempt to "pack" the Supreme Court.

At the Rhode Island State Democratic Convention of 1932 Mrs. Brown nominated Theodore Francis Green for Governor. He was elected and re-elected, and is now senior Rhode Island United States Senator from Rhode Island. That autumn Mrs. Brown was elected to the Newport School Board, and she served continuously thereafter until 1946. In 1943 she was named sponsor of the U. S. S. Newport, which she christened as it slid down the ways at Superior, Wis.

One of the richest women in the state, Mrs. Brown was a generous contributor to many causes and her anonymous gifts to individuals in need were legion. At her estate overlooking Newport Harbor, one of the showplaces of Newport, she entertained quietly, seldom entering the more talked-of circles of Newport society.

H. S. IVES, EX-COUNSEL
FOR INSURANCE GROUP

Special to The New York Times

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 28—Henry Swift Ives, former Midwest editorial and political writer who retired in 1937 as special counsel to the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives in New York, died yesterday in White Plains Hospital at the age of 68. His home was at 3 Ridgecrest East, Scarsdale.

Born in St. Peter, Minn., he was graduated in 1903 from the University of Minnesota, where he obtained a law degree two years later but never practiced. For several years he had been an editorial writer for The St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press and, from 1915 to 1920, was secretary to the Minnesota Tax Commission.

After working unsuccessfully for the nomination of Gen. Leonard Wood as Republican candidate for President in 1920, Mr. Ives was a leader in the Republican National Committee's campaign for Warren G. Harding.

Upon the election of President Harding, Mr. Ives resumed editorial work for The Dispatch and Pioneer Press. In 1922 he became secretary to the Casualty and Surety Information Clearing House, a predecessor of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives.

His widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Cotton Ives, and a brother, Warren L. Ives of White Plains, survive.

MITES FOR ANNE DODGE

Youngest Child of Union Pacific Builder Dies on Coast

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 28 (AP)—A private funeral service will be held here on Friday for Miss Anne Dodge, youngest and last surviving child of Gen. Grenville M. Dodge, Civil War hero and builder of the Union Pacific Railroad. She was 84 years old.

Miss Dodge died yesterday in Pasadena, Calif., where she had made her home for two years. She also had spent many years in New York and Washington.

ANTHONY H. MAINZER

Special to The New York Times

RÁHWAY, N. J., March 28—Anthony H. Mainzer, of 52 Maple Avenue, formerly for forty years South American export manager for the Dentist Supply Company of New York, died yesterday at his home after a brief illness. His age was 81. He retired four years ago.

Born in Mainz, Germany, Mr. Mainzer was educated in Belgium, where he studied language and music. For a number of years he was professor of languages at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., and at St. Francis Xavier College, New York. He also served for a time on the faculty of City College in New York.

MRS. HARRIET G. KING

Special to The New York Times

NEWARK, March 28—Mrs. Harriet Goble King, of 860 South Florentine Street, retired school teacher, who was active in the founding of the New Jersey College for Women, died yesterday at her home at the age of 82.

Mrs. King was a graduate of the Newark Normal School and spent there for a short time.

GEN. DALE GAFFNEY,
AIR FORCE VETERAN

Deputy Commander of Proving Ground at Elgin Base Dies— Was a Pilot Since 1918

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 28 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Dale V. Gaffney, deputy commander of the Air Force Proving Ground at Elgin Air Base, Fla., died today, at the age of 56. He became a pilot in 1918 and has served in many important Air Force assignments.

Served on Mexican Border

Dale Vincent Gaffney was born Feb. 18, 1894, at Methuen, Mass. He served on the Mexican border with the Massachusetts National Guard in 1916 and 1917 before enlisting as a private, first class, in the Aviation Section of the Army Signal Corps for the first World War.

After attending aeronautics courses at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Cornell University during the conflict, General Gaffney was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Service, Regular Army on July 1, 1920. In 1924 he became Post Adjutant and Operations Officer at Kelly Field, Tex., and the next year proceeded to Frances Field in the Canal Zone for duty with the Seventh Observation Squadron.

Returning to the United States, Lieutenant Gaffney assumed command of the Forty-eighth School Squadron of the Air Force's Advanced Flying School at Kelly Field, remaining there until he enrolled, with the rank of captain, in the Air Corps Tactical School at Maxwell Field, Fla., in August, 1935.

After graduation from the Tactical School and the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., he assumed command of Ladd Field Air Force Base at Fairbanks, Alaska, in April, 1940. From that time he was chiefly concerned with problems of strategic defense in the Alaskan area and improvements in Arctic air operations.

Headed Alaskan Wing

On Nov. 14, 1942, he was promoted to lieutenant colonel. In April, 1943, Colonel Gaffney took command of the North West Air Transport Wing, besides commanding the Air Force Cold Weather detachments at Ladd Field. In July of that year he assumed over-all command of the Alaskan Wing of the Air Transport Command.

Promoted to brigadier general in 1943, he remained at Fairbanks directing weather and photo reconnaissance, until June, 1946, when he was made commanding general of the Bermuda base command.

General Gaffney took the post of Deputy Assistant Chief of Air Staff for Arctic Operations at Air Force headquarters at Washington, D. C., in March, 1947, and was sent back to Alaska the following April as commanding officer of the Elmendorf Air Base. In June, 1948, he was appointed commanding general of the Yukon section with headquarters at Ladd Field. In November, 1949, he was transferred to the Air Proving
