

Caroline Werner Gannett, 1894-1979

Caroline Werner Gannett Papers

Biographical Outline

Caroline Werner was born in Rochester, New York on January 22, 1894, the daughter of Lillie Boller Werner and New York State Court of Appeals Judge William E. Werner. She attended public schools in Rochester until the 8th grade, went on to Miss Hake's School (1908), The Columbia School in Rochester (1911), and Rosemary Hall in Greenwich, Connecticut (1914). She also spent a year at "Pension Gucker," a girls' school in Munich, Germany and traveled extensively throughout Europe.

Frank Gannett came to Rochester early in 1918. Through a friend in Elmira, he was introduced to Mrs. William Werner. During the visit he met her youngest daughter Caroline. He was forty-two. She was twenty-four. Despite the age difference, Frank and Caroline fell in love and, after less than two months, became engaged. On March 25, 1920, they were married in Rochester. They had two children, a daughter, Sarah Maria (Sally), born in 1923, and an adopted son, Dixon, born in 1929. Mrs. Gannett traveled extensively in North America and in Europe. She maintained homes in Rochester, New York and Miami Beach, Florida.

A strong supporter of her husband's business and political careers, Mrs. Gannett campaigned actively for her husband when he sought the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1940. She also served as a board member of the Gannett Company, as Vice President and Director of the Gannett Foundation, and was involved in the Frank E. Gannett Newspaperboy Scholarships and the Gannett Youth Center. Remaining active in politics after Frank Gannett's death, she was co-chairwomen of the Senior Americans for Nixon-Lodge Committee in 1960.

Caroline Gannett's social and civic works were numerous. She served on the Board of the Convalescent Hospital for Crippled Children for twenty-five years, beginning in 1918. She was appointed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey as a member of the War Council of New York and worked in centers caring for children of war plant workers during World War II (1943-1945). She also served as Vice-Chairwoman of the First Aid Department of the Rochester Chapter of the American Red Cross (1941-1944), as a member of the Honorary Board of Patrons of Hartwick College (1944), as honorary chairwoman for the Lights-on-for-the-Blind Drive of the Rochester Eye Bank (1958), and as a member of numerous other social and civic organizations, including the Chatterbox Club of Rochester, Allendale Country Day School, Rochester Junior League, Rochester Chamber of Commerce, Brighton Garden Club, and the Bath Club of Miami Beach. In 1947 she became the first woman to serve on the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York, a position she held until 1963. She was affiliated with the Syracuse University Youth Development Center (1958-1961) and participated in the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Caroline Werner Gannett received many awards and honorary degrees for her civic and philanthropic activities, including ones from Alfred University, Keuka College, Bradley University, Syracuse University, the University of Rochester, Springfield College, Elmira College, and Ithaca College. She died on January 4, 1979 at the age of eighty-four.

Collection Description

Papers of Caroline Werner Gannett contain personal, business and social correspondence, including letters between CWG and her parents, sisters, friends, husband, and children; courtship letters from Frank E. Gannett; correspondence relating to Rochester and Miami Beach country clubs and other social groups in which she was actively involved; letters concerning her work with the Frank Gannett Newspaperboy Scholarship Fund, Inc., the American Red Cross (1941-1944), the New York State War Council, the New York State Board of Regents (1947-1963), and other organizations; and letters regarding her many awards, citations, and honorary degrees. Also, correspondence, speeches, drafts, and printed material pertaining to CWG's involvement with the Syracuse University Youth Development Center (1958-1961) and the White House Conference on Children and Youth (1960); and correspondence, printed material, and memorabilia relating to the 1960 Republican campaign.

The collection also includes photographs of the Gannett, Werner, and related families, as well as pictures of CWG, her friends, and associates; student scrapbooks, diaries, poems, plays, and other prose written by Caroline Werner; and printed material from social, political, and religious organizations.

Series I: General Correspondence

Correspondence of Caroline Werner Gannett includes letters to and from CWG's parents, Judge William E. Werner and Lillie B. Werner, her sisters, Clayla Werner (Mrs. Hawley Ward) and Marie "Blondie" Werner (Mrs. Douglas C. Townson), FEG, and their children, Sally and Dixon; letters from several friends (1915-1919) reflecting feelings on their service in World War I; letters between CWG and her mother (1912-1949); letters of support for Frank E. Gannett's presidential campaign (1940); correspondence regarding CWG's appointment to the New York State Board of Regents, a non-salaried position she held from 1947 to 1963; social and business correspondence for the Bath Club of Miami Beach, Florida, Chatterbox Club of Rochester, New York, Rochester Junior League, Allen's Creek Garden Club, Rochester Country Club, Genesee Valley Club, Gannett Newspaperboy Scholarships, Inc., and the Gannett Youth Center; letters concerning CWG's dedication of the Gannett Health Center at Cornell University on September 14, 1957; and letters pertaining to FEG's illness and death on December 3, 1957.

In addition, there is correspondence concerning CWG's affiliation with the Syracuse University Youth Development Center (1958-1961); the Golden Anniversary White House Conference on Children and Youth (March 27-April 1, 1960) and her membership on the National Committee; Senior Americans for Nixon-Lodge and CWG's co-chairmanship of this organization (1960); the Rochester Chamber of Commerce and CWG's presidency of this group (1963); membership on the Board of Directors of the School for the Deaf (ca. 1965); and CWG's committee membership for the "Good Ship Hope" (1967).

Other topics include educational reforms; cultural activities and delinquency problems of teenagers; programs for handicapped children; financial assistance for churches and other organizations; honorary degrees awarded to CWG; commencement speeches; and a published speech by CWG entitled "Random Thoughts of the Lone Lady Regent" (presented in Albany, New York, June 30, 1957).

Also, letters to the Gannett's daughter, Sally, from FEG, primarily about family members, including Caroline, Dixon, Melvin C. Gannett, Gracia Gannett Rathbone, Lillie B. Werner, and others; letters to Sally at summer camps, the Harley School, Rosemary Hall, and Chevy Chase School; advice regarding Sally's studies, management of her finances, health, and eating habits; letters regarding FEG's bid for the presidency in 1940, his work for the U.S. war effort (1941-1945), his work with the Cornell University Board of Trustees and other Cornell business, and the problems of newspaper publishing.

Regular correspondents of CWG include James E. Allen, Jr., Barton Baker, Lord Beaverbrook, Alexander M. Beebee, Cornelis W. de Kiewiet, Edward R. Eastman, Frank Horton, Eleanor and Deane Malott, Frederick A. Morse, Walter Todd, William P. Tolley, and Frank Tripp; in addition, there are letters from Morris Bishop, Bennett Cerf, Thomas E. Dewey, Erich Leinsdorf, Kenneth B.

Keating, Alison Mason Kingsbury, Richard M. Nixon, John McClellan, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Amy Vanderbilt, Jessica "Judy" McCullough Weis, and many others.

Series II: Syracuse University Youth Development Center

Reports, drafts, newsletters, articles, and other materials pertaining to the Syracuse University Youth Development Center (1958-1961), which was formed in July 1958 as a joint project between Syracuse University and the City of Syracuse with a grant from the Ford Foundation. The purpose of the center was research in human behavior, primarily that of juveniles in the 13 to 16 age group. The center examined environment, socio-economic factors, systems of education, work opportunities, parental problems, community agencies, and law enforcement agencies, including training for police officers, legal aspects of handling juvenile problems and the role of the courts, young offenders, and detention camps.

Series III: White House Conference on Children and Youth

The White House Conference on Children and Youth has been held every ten years since it was first originated by James E. West and sponsored by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1909. The purpose of the conference is to assess the needs and conditions of children, and the theme of the 1960 conference was "to promote opportunities for children and youth to realize their full potential for a creative life in freedom and dignity." The 8,000 participants of the conference heard and discussed problems typical of the 1960s; focus was leveled on larger families, changing population problems, increased numbers of women and young people entering the work force, unemployment problems, broken homes, out of wedlock birth increases, the rise in juvenile delinquency and shortages of programs for assisting the juvenile offender, substandard housing and slums in rural areas and inner cities, health problems in children such as blindness, birth defects, mental illness, immunization, carcinomas, and poor nutrition. Proposals for changes in legislation, education, government funding, and medical care were discussed, as well as future trends in these areas.

Honorary Chairman was President Dwight D. Eisenhower (who called for the conference); Honorary Vice Chairman, Arthur S. Flemming; Chairman, Mrs. Rollin Brown; Vice Chairmen, Dr. Hurst R. Anderson, Dr. Philip S. Barba, Mrs. James E. Blue, Robert E. Bondy, Erwin D. Canham, Dr. Donald K. David, Luther Foster, Msgr. Raymond J. Gallagher, Caroline W. Gannett, Dr. Edward D. Greenwood, Dr. Daryl P. Harvey, Dr. Donald S. Howard, Dr. Ruth A. Stout, Rabbi Marc C. Tanenbaum, Rev. Dr. William J. Villaume; Secretary, Mrs. Katherine B. Oettinger; Executive Director, Ephraim R. Gomberg. Records of the conference in Mrs. Gannett's papers include much printed matter, published reports, minutes, memoranda, speeches, and drafts.
