Introduction

This inventory constitutes an attempt to achieve intellectual control over the informational material of this collection while avoiding disturbing the original arrangement of the collection. The bulk of the Claude L. Kulp manuscripts deal with the period of his professional career while Professor of Education at Cornell University, 1952-1962. During this period, Mr. Kulp was Coordinator, Office of Field Services, School of Education, Cornell University, 1957-1962, and it was during this time that he organized and/or participated in most of the more than forty state, county and school surveys contained herein.

While the aforementioned surveys comprise the majority of this collection, other activities Mr. Kulp engaged in during this time and included are as follows: material for courses given; Cornell-related activities such as the Cornell University Council; other professional activities, including the New York State Teachers Association of which he was treasurer and the New York State Regents Exam Board; material relative to conferences attended, such as the New York State Conference of School Superintendents; and non-professional civic activities, as illustrated by the Tompkins County United Fund.

The last section of this inventory comprises reference material, books, pamphlets and forms used throughout the collection.
