My Dear Mary Ann

The Meeting that our folks appointed here last Wednesday, after which I expected to get away, has dragged along, the parties not getting here till yesterday, so the meeting will be held tomorrow =

Sibly is now here, also, Foxton & Walker of Utica, Cynost Field of N.Y. & Dr. Jew of N.Y. Barnum & others will be here tomorrow when we shall take up the subject of the California Tel, and discuss its pro & con and decide whether or no to change the program. As the bill now stands, we ask the Gov. to contract with the Tel Cos for the use of a Cal Tel for Gov bus, paying $50.000 per an for 10 years, with right of way, use of land for stations, with right to buy the same 10 years hence to the extent of 44 Section at each station at 1.25 per acre =

I therefore expect to get away by Wednesday for N.Y. when I shall stop to see Milcox and get home by Saturday, if nothing happens.

I have got quite tired of staying here, not because the objects of interest are exhausted but because I am unexpectedly detained and had other plans for the employment of my time.

I could spend and shall spend at least a month here seeing the objects of interest but I want you with me so that you too can enjoy the same opportunity and I can avail myself of the advantage of having a Lady with me which secures a fellow many advantages, that Masculine humanity, is deprived of or secures by stealth,

Though I have devoted as much time as possible in pushing the Telegraph upon the attention of Members, still I have had some time to spare and have improved it in dropping around among the current amusements of the Capital,

Last Tuesday being the President's reception night (which occurs once a fortnight), I called up at the White house, shook hands with "James the Usurper", circulated through the gandy apartments, and gay throng until the crowd became so dense to be pleasant when I returned to my hotel, Every body goes to the President's levee and it is quite common for the crowds to be so great as to render it extremely unpleasant, especially for Ladies who trail a yard of rich damask silk, behind them that gets thoroughly trampled underfoot, and every now & then anchors the wears, till the obstructions of a huge pair of boots can be removed.

Thursday I went to Mt Vernon with Mr Foxton leaving here at 11. Arr + returning at 3 P.M., giving us 1 1/4 hours there.

It was 17 years since my former visit to the tomb of Washington, and delapidation and decay, had wrought a change, in that period, the house very much decayed, so much so that rough posts had to be got up, to support the piazza, from falling. The same universal destroyer had made sad havoc with furnis, out building and every thing perishable. It seems that the late owner, though a direct descendant of the Good & Great Washington, and a bearer of his name, had done nothing to preserve the estate from the most galloping consumption, and but for the Ladies Monument a few years would have obliterated the last traces of the residence of the father of his country.

In the vicinity of the tomb a few monuments has been erected to the memory of other members of the family, which is the only change noticeable.

Friday evening I again called on Job Seward at being his reception night, this was the third time I have been at Seward's, and each of the occasions has displayed the same pleasantness in the company, the reception, and its social greetings, and treatings - A short time since, after The Penn Republicans held their convention and recommended Cameron as the choice of Penn, some of the Delegates were here and attended one of Seward's receptions, - While circulating through the crowd, eating ice cream & drinking champagne, Seward came up to them, and said goodnaturedly, "that he thought it was too bad that they should recommend Cameron for the Presidency and then come here to drink his wine" -

The other night, I mentioned to him the result of Ithaca election, he said, "O! yes, it is but a little while since I could dine all the Republicans on four plates, but now it would take more than six months sitting all the plates he could muster each day".

He is full of pleasant jokes of that kind and seems a confident and happy as a man well can be -

Yours Affectionately

E Correll

Mary Ann
